Brazelton Touchpoints is an evidence-based approach to building strong family-child relationships from before birth-five. In this five module series participants will:

- Learn practical skills and tools to partner with families to lay the vital foundation for children’s early learning and healthy development.
- Understand the theories and concepts of the Touchpoints approach, with emphasis on the developmental and relational elements of parent-child-provider relationships, and their practical applications.
- Build skills in providing culturally responsive relationship based care
- Engage with co-participants in six sessions of follow-up reflective practice to support implementation of the Touchpoints approach.

Complete all six Reflective Practice sessions and receive a total of 26 points of ongoing professional development—maximizing your Early Childhood Credential training points.
